MIJAS, MEMORIES

A tribute to Mijas and its people, a village on the crossroad between the past and the present. This tour takes you back to times, when Mijas was still a small andalusian village - only a few decades ago. This tour takes you to hidden streets and emblematic places, to observe the transformation of the village during the last 100 years.

Join this walk and explore the most recent history of the village, find out what Mijas was like before the arrival of tourism and hear how local people managed the “ clash of cultures”.

HOLY WEEK

Passion week from the inside

The Holy week and the exhibition of religious passion, devotion and exaltation is probably one of the most emblematic and fascinating local festivities. This tour is a unique opportunity to know more about the origins, the preparations behind, and the symbolism of the powerful holy images. On this special tour we will follow the marching along the streets of Mijas, visit places of religious worship and the houses of the brotherhoods to explore the mystery behind the passion of the Holy week.

Enjoy local art and culture in a different way.

LOCAL VITICULTURE

Local viticulture

Let's go outside !

Vine tasting and nature, a perfect "coupage".

Mijas was once one of the most important viticulture areas in Málaga. Introduced into the mediterranean area in the times of the fenician, wine became an important economic and cultural commodity until the beginning of the XX century. On this tour we will visit a local artisan winemaker, a passion project that recovers the traditional local viticulture making vine in accordance to the principles of organic farming. We will spend the morning on the beautiful vineyard and taste vine with "hometown terroir".
